

AIRSTREAM LINERS

WORLD'S LIGHTEST, FASTEST, EASIEST TOWING TRAILERCOACHES

"YES, HE DID" (22 ft. overall)

"THE TRAILWIND"

New size model 16 ft. body, 18 ft. overall—the TRAILWIND—weight approximately 1600 lbs. Has brakes, full size double innerspring Hollywood bed, plus most of the same furnishings used in our larger models. Strictly deluxe throughout. Equipped to sleep four. Variable floor plans to suit your needs. Truly a remarkable trailercoach.

COLD AND HEAT INSURANCE

Photo shows a 16 ft. body Airstream Liner just before the insulation is installed. It takes the amount of spun glass stacked at left to completely blanket the interior of Airstream Liner. You will note the metal studding. No wood at all is used in the construction of the shells. The Airstream Liner has an inner and outer shell—both aluminum. Between these two shells go the sheets of 1½" plasticized spun glass.

Make this comparison regarding all-metal construction . . . the modern electric refrigerator is all metal—inside and out . . . the modern cook stove is all metal—inside and out . . . the modern AIR-STREAM LINER is all metal—inside and out . . . AND all three use the same type of insulation.

Doesn't this go a long way to answer the question as to how well the Airstream Liner stands heat and cold? Further, by the use of all-metal, we gain these desirable features: 1. We save weight, gain strength. 2. Make the Airstream Liner the most fire-resistant trailercoach on the market. 3. It will never absorb odors, stays clean and fresh year after year.
