Would you like to be part of a group who shares an appreciation of the history of Airstream and an interest in preserving the Wally Byam and Helen Byam Schwamborn legacy of a great timeless trailer and treasured travels? Wally Byam is the originator and designer of the Airstream travel trailer and founded the company now known as Airstream in 1931. Helen Byam Schwamborn is Wally Byam’s cousin and organized the Wally Byam Caravan Club in 1955. The Vintage Airstream Club (VAC) was formed in 1993 to preserve the history and “to encourage clubs and rallies that provide endless source of friendship, travel fun and personal expression.”

The Vintage Airstream Club hosts several rallies and caravans across the country is a significant presence at the Annual Airstream Club International Rally.

Anyone who owns a travel trailer made by Airstream is welcome to join the Vintage Airstream Club – you don't have to own a "Vintage" trailer to be part of this group. All that is required is a love of Airstreams and the way of life that owning an Airstream represents.

If you aren't already a member of WBCCI, you can find more information on the website, www.airstreamclub.org
